Governor's Award of Excellence for Workplace Safety and Health Presented Haywood Company of Brownsville Receives Award

NASHVILLE – Labor & Workforce Development Deputy Commissioner Bob Henningsen announced recently that Haywood Company in Brownsville was chosen to receive the Commissioner's Award of Excellence for Workplace Safety and Health. Henningsen presented the award at the 26th Annual Tennessee Safety and Health Congress and Exposition in Nashville.

"This award represents an enormous accomplishment in workplace safety for Haywood," said Henningsen. "Employees have shown careful attention to safety and health concerns, as the award requirements are challenging."

The Commissioner's Award of Excellence for Workplace Safety and Health is given to Tennessee employers whose employees work a certain number of hours without having an injury resulting in days away from work. The number of hours required is based on the size of the company.

Haywood manufactures plastic hoses, tread rubber, and other plastic and chemical-based products, employing 630.
